

Workshop Details: Psychodrama and Storytelling in Action

For Lawyers and Professionals

Event Overview

Join us for an immersive five-day workshop led by Jeff Chapdelaine, JD, MSW, in Sturbridge, Massachusetts. This workshop will explore the intersection of psychodrama and storytelling and is designed for therapists, professionals, and lawyers who wish to enhance their personal, therapeutic, and trial work through action-based therapy methods.

Workshop Focus

Psychodrama is an action-based therapy method. Clients will use spontaneity and drama to gain insights into their lives. This workshop will emphasize personal work and storytelling, offering opportunities for participants to direct sessions. There will be opportunities for directing.

Host Hotel

Comfort Inn Suites

82 Hall Road

Sturbridge, Massachusetts 01566

Dates: October 26 - 30, 2025

Daily Schedule

- Day 1: 4:00 pm - 9:00 pm (With a working dinner)
- Day 2: 10:30 am - 6:30 pm
- Day 3: 10:30 am - 6:30 pm
- Day 4: 10:30 am - 6:30 pm
- Day 5: 9:30 am - 1:00 pm

Total Training Hours: 32 hours

Registration Information

Fee: $1900

Discounted Fee: $1800 if paid by October 1, 2025

This fee includes training, a private hotel room, and all meals. Cost should not be a barrier for anyone wishing to attend. Please contact Jeff Chapdelaine for scholarship information.

About the Presenter

Jeff Chapdelaine, JD, LICSW

Attorney, Forensic Social Worker, and Forensic Drama Therapist

Jeff Chapdelaine is based in Boston, Massachusetts, where he represents both criminal and civil clients. He consults nationally on plaintiff civil cases and criminal cases, focusing on trial strategy and trauma-informed, client-focused case preparation. Jeff's consulting company provides training for lawyers and mental health professionals on the intersection of legal and mental health systems.

He is actively involved in the Massachusetts CLE Criminal Curriculum Advisory Committee and serves as faculty for numerous training programs locally and nationally, including the National Criminal Defense College, the Trial Lawyers College, and several other prestigious programs.

Contact Information

For more information and to register, please contact:

Jeff Chapdelaine

Phone: 617-262-1800